I'm Angela Johns, a proud Denham resident of three years and visitor for twenty, with two children in our local school (both primary and secondary) and a deep commitment to making Shark Bay a thriving place for families. I hold a degree in behavioural science and I have worked in advocacy roles for mental health, aged care and disability, and currently work in sustainable conservation. My husband runs a local trade business, and I've contributed to our community through roles at the Silverchain nursing post, the Shark Bay School Council, and regular volunteering. I bring a grounded, people-first approach to council, shaped by real-life experience and a strong connection to our town. I'm passionate about supporting families, backing local businesses, and protecting our unique environment. I'm standing for council to represent everyday residents, encourage open and respectful dialogue, and help shape a vibrant future for Shark Bay.
